

NO DEW, NOR RAIN

To The Abyssinian Baptist Church
Now Known as the Abyssinian Apartheid Church

Hear ye, the word of the Lord. Ye have sold my children's inheritance and have stolen their peace and good will.

Oh ye House of Prostitutes. Ye have opened wide your legs and uncovered your buttocks. You have invited the rich and privileged to have their way with you.

As you have destroyed, you have ripped the suckling child from its mother's breast, so shall you be destroyed.

Ye have sent the poor into the street to mourn; they lay on the sidewalks of the city. So shall you be displaced. A wanderer shall you be all the days of your life, and this church shall be a refuge for widows and orphans who will replace you in the days to come.

There is no truth in your mouth.
